OF THOSE REMEMBERED.

There is no moment when our dead lose power:
Unsignaled, unannounced they visit us,
Who calleth them I know not. Sorrowful,
They haunt reproachfully some venal hour
In days of joy, and when the world is near.
And for a moment scourge with memories
The money changers of the temple soul.
In the dim space between two gulfs of sleep,
Or in the stillness of the lonely shore,
They rise for balm or torment, sweet or sad,
And most are mine where, in the kindly woods,
Beside childlike joy of summer streams,
The stately sweetness of the pine hath power
To call their kindred comforting anew.

Use well thy dead. They come to ask of thee
What thou hast done with all this buried love,
The seed of purer life? Or has it fallen unused
In stony ways and brought thy life no gain?
Wilt thou with gladness in another world
Say it has grown to forms of duty done
And ruled thee with a conscience not thine own?
Another world! How shall we find our dead?
What forceful law shall bring us face to face?
Another world! What yearnings there shall guide?
Will love souls twinned of love bring near again?
And that one common bond of duty held
This living and that dead, when life was theirs?
Or shall some stronger soul, in life revered,
Bring both to touch, with nature's certainty.
As the pure crystal atoms of its kinds
Draws into fellowship of loveliness?
—S. Weir Mitchell.

The Greek Dress for Women.

It is not to be wondered at that those women who care for their beauty rather than for style in their attire should again and again revert to the idea of introducing among English ladies the graceful fashions of ancient Greece. The flowing draperies and cunning folds in which the robe of the Athenian lady was arranged formed the very ideal of a suitable attire for women, if they studied only the art of making themselves appear charming.

That the Greek is really the only mode of attire suited to the form feminine is sufficiently attested by the fact that no woman of taste wishing a life size statue of herself to be made would think of arraying herself in any other fashion of clothing. How would the bodice, short or long in basque, according to the prevailing style, the full straight skirt or the flounced petticoat, the tight laced waist and the peaked shoulders, appear when chiseled in marble or rendered in bronze. So far, however, the demand for classic ideals has been made in vain. The attempts to revive the beautiful fashions of the Greek women have been desultory and infrequent, and the few ladies who have tried the experiment have either been soon tired by the extra trouble involved and annoyed by the notice they excited, or they have not possessed sufficient social importance for their example to be largely followed.—Lady.

To Catch Those Shamming Deafness.

"That no man is proof against the love of money is evidenced by the ease with which a physician can expose a man who is feigning deafness," says Dr. Wallace Smyth. "A man can pretend to be deficient in any one of the senses, and it is sometimes necessary to subject him to an electric shock to break down his self erected barrier. But if a man who is pretending to be deaf is approached from behind while standing on a stone floor or sidewalk and a coin is dropped so as to ring, he will invariably turn sharply around with a view to picking it up.

"This simple device is frequently resorted to in countries where conscription is the rule and where deafness or any other infirmity relieves a man from army service. I saw it tried in Paris on six alleged youths, and, much to the examining physician's amusement, it succeeded in exposing the sham every time."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

We Are Larger Than We Used to Be.

"It is a great mistake," says an architect, "to suppose that men are becoming smaller physically. When I was in Europe, in Munich, we gave a grand ball and the city authorities decided to let the artists have the use of the mediæval armor stored in the museum there. There were only two suits of armor which could be worn by us. These were the suits of giants of that time. The rest, which belonged to the ordinary sized, strong mediæval soldiers, were too small for us. Would not this tend to show that we are larger than our ancestors were?"—Detroit Free Press.

Willing to Do Anything.

She—No, I'm afraid I can't marry you. Snooks is such a horribly common name.

He (eagerly)—I'll get it changed!

She—But your hair is so dreadfully red.

He (determinedly)—I'll get it dyed!

She—And your eyes are decidedly green.

He (frantically)—I'll go out and get 'em blacked!—Exchange.

Electric Garden Pump.

Many of the country residences in England are now supplied with electric lighting machinery, and consequently a great number of electrical adaptations are rendered possible. Among these is an electric garden pump, which is said to do its work in a most efficient manner. It is only necessary to fix it up by a pond or fountain and attach a suction and delivery pipe, and the water is projected as desired.—New York Telegram.

The Irrepressible Office Boy.

"Is th'r boss in?"

"Whose boss?"

"Yourn."

"I ain't got no boss. Ef ye mean the man what pays me tree dollars a week to answer fool questions, he's out, and won't be in agin till you're gone!"—New York Truth.

It is estimated that not far from 30,000 persons sleep in rented rooms in Boston lodging houses. Most of these are young men and women from the country, a considerable proportion of whom are bravely struggling to live respectably on very small salaries.

The Imperial university at Tokio, Japan, is probably the largest in the world, having an enrollment of 2,000 scholars and a faculty of forty members. It is under government control

A Mistake.

These curious personal resemblances, which are not uncommon, have given rise to the popular belief that every man has his double somewhere in the world. It appears that the double of a well known professor of the Rush Medical college is a hairdresser, whose shop is situated in the immediate neighborhood of that institution, and who, well aware of his likeness to the learned doctor, carefully copies the latter in dress, bearing and demeanor. A few days ago the professor was walking homeward from his lecture room, when a gentleman, entirely unknown to him, stopped him in the street, saying:

"Follow me to my house. I want you to cut my hair."

The amiable professor, one of whose principles of life it has always been never to withhold from a fellow creature any service that it might be within his power to render, meekly accompanied the stranger home and there addressed himself to the task thus imperatively prescribed to him.

Lacking professional scissors, he picked up a pair of shears, used for cutting paper, from a writing table in the dressing room to which he had been conducted, and with this implement proceeded most conscientiously to cut his victim's hair down to the very roots.

When he had cleared about half the skull he accidentally stuck the point of his shears into the scalp of his patient, who, springing to his feet in great pain and wrath, exclaimed:

"Can't you take care what you're about? Do you call yourself a hairdresser?"

"A hairdresser!" returned the astonished sage. "Certainly not. I am only Professor Blank, very much at your service, as you perceive."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Tight Lacing Once More.

It is a trite but correct remark that, as the human form has been molded by nature, the best shape is undoubtedly that which she has given it. To endeavor to render it more elegant by artificial means is to change it; to make it much smaller below and much larger above is to destroy its beauty; to keep it cased up in a kind of domestic cuirass is not only to deform it, but to expose the internal parts to serious injury. Under such compression as is commonly practiced by ladies, the development of the bones, which are still tender, does not take place conformably to the intention of nature, because nutrition is necessarily stopped, and they consequently become twisted and deformed.

Those who wear these appliances of tight lacing often complain that they cannot sit upright without them—are sometimes, indeed, compelled to wear them during all the twenty-four hours; a fact which proves to what an extent such articles weaken the muscles of the trunk. The injury does not fall merely on the internal structure of the body, but also on its beauty and on the temper and feelings with which that beauty is associated. Beauty is in reality but another name for expression of countenance, which is the index of sound health, intelligence, good feelings and peace of mind. All are aware that uneasy feelings, existing habitually in the breast, speedily exhibit their signature on the countenance, and that bitter thoughts or a bad temper spoil the human expression of its comeliness and grace.—New York Ledger.

A Negro Servant's Wit.

A copy of the Salem (Mass.) Gazette of Aug. 12, 1788, contains the following anecdote:

A gentleman in the state of Connecticut regularly attended public worship on the Lord's day with all his family; on the Sunday evening he always catechised his children and servants on the principles of religion, and what they heard the minister deliver from the pulpit.

He had a negro man who never could remember a note of the sermon, though otherwise smart. At last his master peremptorily told him he would on Monday morning tie him up and flog him.

Next Sunday evening, when interrogated, he had forgotten all. On Monday morning his master executes his threat so far as to tie him up.

The fellow then cried out, "Oh, master, spare me, for I remember something the minister said."

"What is it?" said the master.

The fellow replied, "This much may suffice at this time."

The master was so pleased with his wit that he forgave him.

Too Much Lynch Law.

First Citizen—Wall, we caught up with the feller wot stole your new overcoat, an lynched him.

Second Citizen—Ha, ha! that's somethin like. Teach these coyotes they've gotter obey the laws o' the land. Hung him, eh?

"No, we shot him full o' holes."

"Gee whittaker! He didn't have my overcoat on, did he?"

"Jerusalem, partner, come to think, I'm 'fraid he did."

"Ye oughter be arrested, every one of ye. This ere lynch law is a disgrace ter civilization."—New York Weekly.

Streets of a Chinese City.

Consul Gracey summarizes the condition of streets and highways of Foochow, China, in the following report to the department of state, Washington: "There are no roads in this part of China. The streets of Foochow are from six to twelve feet wide, many of them covered with stone slabs, which are filthy beyond description, and are perfectly execrable. We have no wheeled vehicles, and as a consequence merely footpaths all through the country."

Pets on Shipboard.

Cats and dogs have been found on wrecks which apparently had been abandoned by their crew some time previous. In several instances when vessels have been abandoned the crews have, at great risk to themselves, rescued their marine pets. Pet monkeys make themselves very much at home on board ship, and are great favorites with Jack.—London Tit-Bits.

A Woman's Statement.

They got into an argument about the money made by people who earn their living on the stage. Of course they differed: people can't argue satisfactorily unless they do differ. But here is the opinion of a woman who was once on the stage, who was considered popular, who was clever enough in her work to get applause and praise, who presumably earned more than the average actress, and yet who is content with her present life:

"When I take out the money paid for gowns which were useless except on the stage, when I make allowance for traveling expenses, hotel bills, weeks in which few performers earn anything; when I take into account engagements which could not for many reasons be satisfactory to me; when I foot up the salaries which sometimes in my early work I never received, and when I estimate the thousand and one little expenses which were then necessary, I consider that for several years of my life I earned practically nothing but a living, and I worked very hard, you must understand. When I got married I left the stage. Now it isn't necessary to tell you what my salary was or what my husband's salary now is, but his earnings are less than mine were. But we two live much better on his smaller salary than I alone could live on my bigger salary. We have a pretty home and all that we need to be happy. We save a little money too. So I suppose this is a fair answer as to what one makes on the stage. There are a great many circumstances to be considered."—New York Tribune.

Ten Anxious Minutes.

Captain Anderson rescued the crew of a Dutch schooner from a wild part of the island of Formosa, after firing upon some of the natives. His return is thus described in "A Cruise in an Opium Clipper:" "Our way took us in single file through a narrow pass, and as I entered it at the head of my men, for a second my heart almost ceased to beat at the startling sight that met my gaze.

"The pass was lined on both sides with ferocious looking natives armed with pole axes, spears, huge knives and many other death dealing instruments.

"Although I was taken flat aback by the sight, some instinct carried me forward sword in hand, looking to the right and left with a cool, staring eye, which seemed to curb the revengeful spirit of the natives.

"On arriving at the other end of the defile I stopped, turned round, saw all the men safely through, and then told them in unmistakable English to make a clean pair of heels for the ship, while I brought up the rear at a sharp pace as soon as I had got a little way from the entrance of the pass, so that the natives might not see us in too great a hurry.

"How they let us through without touching a hair of our heads or once making a motion toward us passes my comprehension."

Letters That Never Came.

They tell a funny story of a man who rented a box in the postoffice awhile ago. He appears to have been new to the business and failed to get the hang of the thing. After a month or so he called on one of the postoffice officials and began to kick about the box. "The blamed thing never had any mail in it," was his complaint.

"I have looked in that box every day since I rented it and it hasn't had a thing in it the whole time. I even addressed a letter to myself and never heard from it."

The two took a look at the box and the postoffice man inquired if the box renter had ever opened his box Why, no; of course not. Couldn't he see that there wasn't anything in it.

Of course it turned out that he had forgotten the number of his box though it was on his receipt, and had been watching and swearing over an unrented one. He found a stock of mail in his box at last and went away feeling small enough to crowd inside of it.—Buffalo Express.

The Wooden Indian.

I used to live in Spain, and afterward in the West Indies, before I came to the States. I met the wooden Indian long before I came to this country. I have been asked before where the wooden Indian got his start. I only know what I have heard about him in the Old World. There was an adventurer named Rutz who left his old city, Barcelona, and came to Virginia 300 years ago. When he returned he executed the wooden Indian in a rude way, as a type of the sort of animal he had met in the New World, and the figure was set up in front of a shop where wine was sold. Finally it became a sort of trademark. There were smokers in those days and they assembled around the Indian. And the wooden Indian is now seen in front of nearly every cigar store.—Interview in Chicago Tribune.

Waited Until the Child Was Safe.

An interesting little war story has Governor Jones, of Alabama, for its hero. At the time Gordon was resisting Sherman's advance, Jones, then a staff captain, was delivering a message from his chief when he saw a little child, clad only in night clothes, hiding in terror behind a frame house in the direct range of the bullets from each army. Jones rode forward, took the child on his horse and galloped back with her to the Confederate line. When the Union forces saw the act they ceased firing, and there was an impromptu cessation of hostilities until the child had been carried to a point of safety.—Charleston News and Courier.

Thieves Trust in Fortune Tellers.

The thief has implicit reliance in the foreknowledge claimed by gypsies and other people, and he has been known to pay blackmail to professed exponents of the "black art" who threatened him with all manner of perils.—Exchange.

His Error.

COUNTY CULLINGS.

The Pistol Snapped---Peculiar Accident---Minor Notes.

E. K. Evans, father of Evans Bros. of Petaluma, died in Alameda last Tuesday.

Del Norte Geary, the two-year-old son of Congressman Geary, died last Monday evening in Santa Rosa.

Willis Faught, an old pioneer of this county, died near Sebastopol on Friday of last week, aged 72 years.

Henry Black, manager of the late Moses Hopkins' farm near Healdsburg, was remembered by the dead millionaire in his will to the amount of $5,000.

It was reported in San Francisco on good authority Saturday evening that the Santa Fe had bid $5,500,000 for the San Francisco and North Pacific railway.

Frank Dever, the burglar captured by two plucky Santa Rosa girls while ransacking their room, one night last week, stands a dead sure chance of bringing up in the penitentiary. He has been held by Judge Brown to appear before the Superior Court, charged with burglarly.

Jesse Stump of Fulton had what he thinks was a narrow escape from death Friday night. That night Stump, Wm. Dorty and others were gambling in a Fulton saloon. Stump got out of money and was then ordered to get out of the house. He refused to obey the request, whereupon Dorty assisted the saloon man in throwing Stump out. Then Stump dared Dorty, who is a big fellow, to follow him out, saying that he could whip him on even terms. Dorty rushed out and when within a few feet of Stump, so the latter alleges, drew a revolver and snapped it at him. The weapon missed fire; fortunately. Then Stump grappled with Dorty and in the scuffle succeeded in taking the weapon away from him. He came to Santa Rosa Saturday afternoon, handed the revolver over to Justice Brown and had a warrant sworn out for Dorty's arrest. Deputy Sheriff Mead went to Fulton that evening, arrested Dorty and lodged him in the county jail to await his trial on the charge of an assault with a deadly weapon. Dorty appeared before Justice Brown Monday, who bound him over for trial in the sum of $2,500.

A serious accident befell two Petaluma men Sunday afternoon. They were Tom Studdert, foreman of the Courier and his cousin. Studdert and his cousin got on the 8 o'clock train bound for San Francisco. They had not gone more than a mile when the cousin either jumped or fell off. About a half a mile further on Studdert jumped off to go to the rescue of his companion and when he struck the ground he fell against a nail keg near the track. The train was backed up and Studdert was found lying alongside the track unconscious. He had a big cut in his head and was bleeding profusely. He was picked up and the train backed up to where the other man lay stretched out on the track. He, too, was unconscious and badly injuried. He was taken aboard and the train ran back to Petaluma. There, the young men were placed in carriages and conveyed to their homes to receive medical attention. ---S. R. Republican.

The Gold Band, which accompanies the Original New Orleans Uncle Tom's Cabin Company, will entertain the audience between acts with several choice selections, at Union Hall next Monday evening.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and muscous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for testimonials,

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills."—Boothbay (Me.), Register.

In Need

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

Energy Almost Inaccessible.

It has been computed that in a single cubic foot of the ether which fills all space there are locked up 10,000 foot tons of energy which have hitherto escaped notice. To unlock this boundless store and subdue it to the service of man is a task which awaits the electrician of the future. The latest researches give well founded hopes that this vast storehouse of power is not hopelessly inaccessible.—Nature.

Asking for Information.

In Germany teachers are very poorly paid. At a teachers' festival somebody proposed the toast, "Long live our school teachers!"

"What on?" asked a cadaverous looking specimen rising in his seat.—Texas Siftings.

That Tired Feeling

Is a dangerous condition due directly to depleted or impure blood. It should not be allowed to continue, as in its debility the system is especially liable to serious attacks of illness. It is remarkable how beneficial Hood's Sarsaparilla is in this enervating state.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Possessing just those elements which the system needs and readily seizes, this medicine purifies the blood, and imparts a feeling of serene strength which is comforting and satisfying. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best remedy for that weakness which prevails at change of season, climate or life.

"I have been convinced that Hood's Sarsaparilla is one of the greatest medicines in the world. I say this for the benefit of all other tired out, run down, hard-working women. Hood's Sarsaparilla is not only excellent as a blood purifier, but for all other female complaints, even if of long standing." Makes the Weak Strong

An English Club Man Dead.

The death of Mr. George Cavendish Bentinck came as a surprise to all, for though he had been in failing health for some time past, yet no serious alarm was entertained as to his ultimate safety. Indeed, only a few days previous to his death Mrs. Bentinck was on a visit to her younger daughter, Mrs. James, and certainly then no grave anxiety was felt on his account. Mr. Bentinck was one of the founders of the well known amateur acting club, the "Old Stagers," which was to celebrate its jubilee during the cricket week at Canterbury this year. Indeed, Mr. Bentinck was to have been the hero of the coming festivities, for if not the last he was certainly the oldest of the original band that organized the club. "Little Ben," as he was generally called, was a great connoisseur in art, besides being an enthusiastic collector. His house in Grafton street was a positive museum, but there is little likelihood of its many treasures being put up for sale. The late Mr. Bentinck's eldest son married Miss Livingstone, a daughter of Mr. Maturin Livingstone, of New York.—London Truth.

Bachelors Do Their Own Cooking.

There is a widely popular fad among New York bachelors for domestic cookery. It is quite English, you know. There are more men about town experimenting with a chafing dish than most people imagine. They get their own simple breakfast at first, then carefully and gradually branch out in the broader fields of the culinary art. "There is more amusement in this thing," said one of these amateurs, "than anything I've struck for a long time. I have a little alcohol lamp that you could put in your pocket, and with this little lamp and a chafing dish I can turn out a good many palatable things. A friend of mine in the same house took breakfast with me one Sunday morning. Now he's got it. It isn't much trouble. It lends the needed variety to everyday life. It saves a right good bit of money too. Though I took it up originally as an amusement, it is a sensible and highly satisfactory way to live."—New York Herald.

MISCELLANEOUS.

MRS. GRAHAM'S

CUCUMBER and ELDER FLOWER CREAM,

Is not a cosmeticin the sense in which that term is popularly used, but permanently beautifies. It creates a soft, smooth, clear, velvety skin, and by daily use gradually makes the complexion several shades whiter. It is a constant protection from the effects of sun and wind, and prevents sun burns and freckles, and blackheads will not come while you use it. It cleanses the face far better than soap and water, nourishes and builds up the skin tissues and thus prevents the formation of wrinkles. It gives the freshness, clearness and smoothness of the skin that you had when a little girl. Every lady, young or old ought to use it, as it gives a more youthful appearance to any lady, and that permanently. It contains no acid, powder or alkali and is as harmless as dew and as nourishing to the skin as dew is to the flower. Price $1.00, at all druggists and hair-dressers, or at Mrs. Gervaise Graham's establishment, 103 Post Street San Francisco, where she treates ladies for all blemishes of the face and figure. Ladies at a distance treated by letter. Send stamp for her little book "How to be Beautiful."

SAMPLE BOTTLE mailed free to any lady on receipt of 10 cents in stamps to pay for postage and packing. Lady agents wanted.

The case of the People vs. J. G. Stout will be called in the Superior Court at Santa Rosa to-day, when defendant will enter his plea on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon W. B. Pless, the partner of Senator Jones in his reclamation and dreding enterprise in this valley.

The civil suit of Jas. Burns vs. Geo. Maxwell et al, has been continued until next Tuesday in Department Two of the Superior Court. The suit is the outcome of the Verano boom in 1888, which was going to knock Sonoma completely out and play the mischief generally, but which in the end was one of the most miserable land failures ever recorded.

Judge Dougherty has rejected al the bids in the recent sale of town lots belonging to the estate of the late John Tivnen. The bid of A. Schweinhardt of $1000 for the property adjoining the Sonoma Valley Bank on Broadway, has been increased to $1725. The confirmation of this latter bid will come up before the Superior Court in Santa Rosa next Tuesday.

A few nights ago the original New Orleans Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. appeared in the Oakland Theatre before a packed house. An incident occured during the performance which was not down on the programme. During the scene where "Legree" strikes Uncle Tom, a colored lady arose in the audience and cried "don't you strike that poor old man you devil."

Clement J. Schuster is constructing a fine ten-foot plank sidewalk in front of his property on First-street East south of Napa street. The length of the walk is 156 feet and the improvement will cost the owner $156. Mr. Schuster is an enterprising young man and it would be well for Sonoma if some of our property owners would emulate his example in the matter of improving their sidewalks.

THE SEARS CASE.

The Jury---The Trial will Probably Last Several Days Longer.

The trial of Perry Sears for shooting John Riebli in self-defense several months ago commenced in the Superior Court last Wednesday before Judge Dougherty. The first day was consumed in drawing jurors, composed of the following citizens, none of whom are residents of Sonoma Township:

W. D. Sink,
Chas. Walgand,
Andrew Francis,
Despord Taylor,
J. S. Bell,
Edward Hopper,
Thomas B. Butler,
Thomas Carlyon,
Charles Capegli,
Charles Caldwell,
Lynn Bledsoe,
E. D. Harris.

It will be remembered that Mr. Sears was exonerated by a Coroner's Jury and later on by the Grand Jury.

The attention of Judge Dougherty was drawn to this fact by the defense, who claimed that Mr. Sears had already been acquitted and could not again be placed in jeopardy. The court ruled otherwise and ordered the trial to proceed, and attorneys Rodgers and Pressley, for the defense, took an exception to the ruling, which is surely unconstitutional.

Mrs. Riebli, widow of the man who assaulted Mr. Sears, was called to the witness stand and occupied the same all day. Her testimony was about the same as that given before the Coroner's Jury held at the scene of the killing the day after the tragedy. In substance she stated that when Riebli and herself saw Mr. and Mrs. Sears coming down the road in the direction of the opening in the fence, which they had closed up by order of Mrs. Snyder, Riebli ordered Sears not to come on the land. At that time Sears was engaged in forcing an opening through the gate in order to let his team pass through. In regard to what followed, Mrs. Riebli tells one story and three or four witnesses for the defense tell an entirely different tale. Mrs. Riebli claims that her husband did not attack Sears until he had been shot twice, but Rannie McDonell, Mrs. Sears, Ah Yep and the defendant swear positively that Mr. Sears was attacked by both Riebli and his wife with the clubs and was in danger of being killed before he drew his pistol and fired the fatal shots.

Up to the hour of going to press County Surveyor Ricksecker, Dr. Vance and others were put upon the stand by the prosecution. The Dr. testified the wounds on Reibli were all in front and that they were sufficient to cause death. He did not observe any burns on the clothing of deceased.

Death Of Young Michael Glynn.

Michael F. Glynn, son of Mrs. Ellen Glynn, formerly of this place but now residing in San Francisco, died in that city of consumption last Thursday morning. Young Glynn had been ailing for months and his death was not unexpected by his relatives and friends.

The deceased was at one time a compositor in this office, and while so employed was an industrious and faithful boy. He possessed many good traits of character and was always kind and obliging to his friends. After leaving this office and while in town he always stood ready to help out the office force when through accident or sickness the paper was behind time, and he invariably refused to be paid for his time. This was when he was a stout and robust boy. Several years ago consumption fastened upon him and of late he had been but a shadow of his former self. He was a first-class compositor, but sickness compelled him to give up his occupation.

The deceased young man was born in Sonoma twenty-three years ago. He leaves a large number of relatives in this place and San Francisco.

His funeral will take place in Sonoma from St. Francis' Church at 12 o'clock to-day (Saturday.) His remains will be laid to rest beside those of his father in the Catholic Cemetery.

A GENEROUS FIRM.

Mr. Henry Chauvet of Glen Ellen was in town Saturday visiting friends.

Rev. A. Drahms, chaplain of San Quentin prison, visited Sonoma last Sunday.

John McDonell visited friends in San Francisco last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Andrew Goess went to the city last Sunday to visit her father, Mr. Robinson.

Mrs. C. W. Englebert has been the guest of friends in San Francisco the past week.

Tom Wilson of Cloverdale, accompanied by his wife, visited the county seat last Monday.

Robt. Hall returned to his Sonoma home last Sunday after a business trip to the metropolis.

Mrs. S. H. Shaw and Miss Grace Shaw spent several days the past week visiting friends in the metropolis.

Frank Luttrell of Glen Ellen was in town last Sunday. Mr. Luttrell contemplates moving with his family to Sonoma.

The marriage of Miss Ella McIntyre and Mr. W. J. Minkel will be solemnized at the home of Miss McIntyre's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McIntyre, in the near future.

As there will be a dance in Union Hall the same night that Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. is to be there, the show will have the doors open at 7 o'clock and performance will begin at 7:30 sharp. Dance will begin immediately after the performance.

Mrs. Hardy and children sailed for Chile last Monday at 12 o'clock. Mrs. Hardy has been residing in Sonoma with her sister, Mrs. Amy Pauli, for nearly a year, being compelled to leave Chile on account of the recent political troubles in that country.

Don't forget to attend the grand ball at Union Hall on the evening of Washington's Birthday. Park's string band of Santa Rosa has been engaged for the occasion. The floor will be cleared for dancing immediately after the performance of the Uncle Tom's Cabin Company. The floor will be under the direction of Henry Seipp and J. E. Kearney.

Jas. Holler, the Sixth-street photographer of San Francisco, and Prof. Cathcart, ex-champion feather-weight boxer of the Pacific Coast, were the guests of W. T. Baker, our real estate agent last Tuesday. The host was extremely polite to the latter during his brief sojourn in Sonoma, because, you know, in a scrapping match Cathcart might make him "holler" like the other guest.

The Oakland Tribune and the Music and Drama of San Francisco speak in the highest terms of the New Orleans Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. They state that this company gives the finest presentation of that popular old drama ever witnessed in California.

HE GOT THERE.

How Bravery and Presence of Mind Averted a Serious Conflagration.

The alarm of fire which brought out the Sonoma Volunteer Fire Company last Sunday afternoon was occasioned by an incipient blaze in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Small on Napa street. The fire was caused by the lambrequin on the mantlepiece over the grate taking fire during the temporary absence of the family from the room. In a few seconds the flames reached a coal-oil lamp on the mantlepiece which burst from the heat. Immediately after the burning fluid from the lamp caused the flames to reach almost to the ceiling, and for a short time it seemed as though the dwelling was doomed. Mr. Small, with rare presence of mind, picked up a grain sack and rushed into the room and endeavored to smother the flames with the same. After fighting the fire for a few seconds with the sack it also took fire. Throwing the burning sack out of the door, Mr. Small then took off his coat and attacked the flames with renewed vigor. The garment, however, shared the fate of the sack and was likewise cast aside. Then he tore of his vest and shirt and renewed the battle with the fire fiend and finally, stripped to the waist, succeeded in putting out the flames. All this happened in less than five minutes, and when the firemen arrived on the scene all danger had passed. Mr. Small's battle with the fiery element is described as being a most dogged and determined one.

HORRIBLE.

A Woodchopper Burned to Death Near Glen Ellen.

On last Monday evening a woodchopper named Ludwig Gullickson, employed on the mountain farm of Patrick Monahan, near Glen Ellen, was burned to death by his cabin catching fire. The deceased, who is supposed to have been under the influence of liquor, had retired for the night at an early hour in the evening. About 8 o'clock the cabin was discovered in flames by Jimmy Malone, who gave the alarm. Upon repairing to the scene the cabin was found to be a mass of flames. After the cabin had been burned to the ground and the smouldering embers put out the body of the unfortunate woodchopper was found in the ruins. The head, arms and legs had been burned off and the body presented a sickening sight that caused strong men to turn away in horror. The fire is supposed to have started from a defective and primitive lamp constructed out of a yeast can by the deceased. Coroner Blaney held an inquest on the remains last Tuesday and a verdict was rendered that the man came to his death by being accidentally burned to death. The deceased had no known relatives in this country and was a native of Sweden and aged about 50 years.

The City Trustees met in special session last Monday, Messrs. Poppe, Weyl and Litzius being present.

The meeting was called for the purpose of receiving proposals for curbing Napa street west of Second street East and First-street East south of Napa street. Two bids were received, one from A. J. Van Every, who agreed to do the curbing for 10½ cents per running foot and the other from J. B. Small, whose figures were 10 cents per running foot. The contract was awarded to the latter.

A new bond was filed with the Trustees by A. Fochetti, proprietor of the Star Saloon, with L. Modini and C. Aguillon as sureties.

The matter of taking action in regard to a petition to the District Attorney, asking that official to dismiss certain indictments, was postponed until the matter could be brought up before a full Board. The meeting then adjourned.

Only a Pay Car.

The pay car of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway passed through town last Tuesday morning en route to the end of the line of the Sonoma Valley Branch, and returned to Tiburon the same day. The report that the car was a special containing officials of the Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad, who were on a tour of inspection with the object of bidding on the road when offered for sale by the administrators of the estate of the late Mervyn Donahue, was not true. Apropos to the above, however, we might mention the fact that the Topeka and Santa Fe are prospective purchasers of the road as are also the Southern Pacific people, although the latter are reported as saying that they have no idea of buying the road, but that assertion should be received with many grains of allowance.

From Tom Wilson it is learned that the sixteen-year-old daughter of Jeweler Hunsicker of Cloverdale, ran away from home Sunday and went to San Francisco. She boarded the train at the car shed north of the station, in order to elude her mother who was standing on the platform. Just as the train was pulling out she appeared at a window of one of the coaches and waved her hand at her mother. It is understood the girl made an unsuccessful attempt to leave home a few weeks ago.—Democrat.

OFFICIAL BAKING POWDER TESTS.

The Health Officer of Los Angeles Examines and Reports the Best.

Los Angeles Times.

Health Officer McGowan of Los Angeles, has made during the last few weeks a thorough study of the baking powders sold in this section of California.

There are so many baking powders in the market, the use of which is certain detriment to the health of the consumer, that this action of Dr. McGowan in giving the public reliable and athoritative information as to the brands that are both economical and wholesome, is most timely and valuable. A portion of his report is as follows:

"OFFICE OF THE HEALTH OFFICER,
"LOS ANGELES, CAL., MAY 22, 1891

"From analysis made by Prof. Rising, professor of chemistry of the University of California, Prof. Wenzell, professor of chemistry California College of Pharmacy, and from further searching analysis made by Professors Thomas Price & Son, of San Francisco, Prof. Hanks and others, and by analyses which I personally have had made, it is clearly demonstrated and proven that the Royal baking powder is pure and wholesome, and that it stands as far as strength and purity are concerned, at the head of the baking powders of the United States.

"The Royal is composed of absolutely pure, harmless and wholesome ingredients of the highest grade and character.

The World Enriched.

The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to clense the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

We have received this week a copy of the "Toilette," a fashion magazine, which we recommend to our lady readers who are in search of the latest fashions. It is beautifully illustrated and well worth the price of $1.50 a year. Address Toilette Publishing Co., 126 West 23d street, New York.

Sixteen ladies and gentlemen will appear in Uncle Tom's Cabin at Union Hall next Monday evening. The specialties introduced between the acts are alone worth the price of admission.

Don't waste, time money and health trying every new medicine you may see advertised in the papers. If the cause of your trouble is in the blood, liver or kidneys, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla at once, and be sure of a cure. Take no other.

Despondency, caused by a diseased liver, can be avoided by taking Simmons Liver Regulator.

Take Simmons Liver Regulator after your dinner. It prevents dyspepsia and indigestion.

Sam Snyder is more than lucky. Petalumans remember Snyder as the German baker who was in the employ of Chas. Doehring and won $15,000 in the Louisiana lottery. Sam took a trip to Germany and after seeing the sights of his native country returned to California and settled in Stockton. Last Tuesday he held a coupon of the same lottery company that entitles him to another $15,000.—Petaluma Courier.

A VERY COMMON WANT

"Out of sorts," "distrait," "the blues," these are familiar appellatives for uncomfortable, undefinable sensations, accompained with lassitude, nervousness, indigestion. Poverty of the blood, to remedy which an effective stomachic persistently used is the paramount needed, is conclusive evidence that the system is unsufficiently nourished because—and for no other cause where organic disease does not exist—the food is not assimilated. Reinforce the flagging energies of the stomach, reform an irregular condition of the bowels, keep up a healthful secretion of the bile with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. For over thirty years this popular medicine has supplied the common want of the nervous invalid, the dyspeptic and of persons deficient in vitality, an efficient tonic. To its power of imparting strength is attributable its efficacy as a preventative of malaria and la grippe. Thoroughly effective is it too for rheumatism, kidney complaint and neuralgia.

The First Step.

Perhaps you are run down, can't eat, can't sleep, can't think, can't do anything to your satisfaction, and you wonder what ails you. You should heed the warning, you are taking the first step into Nervous Prostration. You need a Nerve Tonic and Electric Bitters you will find the exact remedy for restoring your nervous system to its normal, healthy condition. Surprising results follow the use of this great Nerve Tonic and Alterative. Your appetite returns, good digestion is restored, and the Liver and Kidneys resume healthy action. Try a bottle. When Does the Nineteenth Century End?

I have been pretty thoroughly convinced for years that not one person in five knows when this century will close, but I was much surprised to find the statement that but about eight years of this century remain. This would make 1899 the last year of this decade and century. The matter is important enough to correct, and is very easily made clear. The First century closed with the last day of the year 100; the Second with the last day of the year 200, and the Nineteenth century will end with the last day of the year 1900, which is nine years from New Year Day, 1892.—J. Ogden Kern in New York Sun.

A Steam Sleigh.

A Truckee (Cal.) man has in the course of construction a steam sleigh which will, he claims, when perfected, traverse snow covered fields and mountains with a speed scarcely less than that of a railroad train. It is his intention to utilize the contrivance for the hauling of all classes of freight, sawlogs and anything else that requires cheap transportation.—Exchange.

While a workman was repairing an outbuilding in Winchester, Ind., a few days ago, he found under one of the sills an old tin can containing about $1,000 in gold coin, mostly in $2.50 and five dollar pieces. No one knows to whom the treasure belonged.

The Oakland board of education having decreed that married teachers must go, the question the women are asking each other is, since no distinction was made, what will be the effect of the resolution where the teachers happen to be men?

The great treasury vault at Washington covers more than a quarter of an acre and is twelve feet deep. Recently there was $90,000,000 in silver stored there, an amount that weighed 4,000 tons and would load 175 freight cars.

The fishing industry at Portland, Or., and vicinity is rapidly increasing. The amount of mackerel packed in Portland alone last season was 17,000 barrels, or more than 10,000 barrels in excess of the season before.

One of the latest discoveries of the scientists is that the germs of yellow fever may be conveyed from tropical countries in the plumage of birds.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a Bilious Look. If your stomach be disordered you have a Dyspeptic Look and if your Kidneys be affected you have a Pinched Look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alternative and Tonic and acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, Blotches, Boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Ed. Wegner's Drug Store. 50c per bottle.

CO-OPERATIVE YACHTING.

An English Method of Cruising Without Buying an Expensive Boat.

It is becoming more and more popular every year in England for steamers to go out with passengers bound on a regular yachting cruise. In summer they go cruising up among the fiords of Norway and visit the North cape. In winter they go to the Mediteranean or the West Indies. A lot of people on pleasure bent engage passage and have all the pleasure of a cruise on a steam yacht without the trouble and expense of owning one.

Richard J. Goodwin, a retired merchant of this city, who has made a trip on one of these vessels to the North cape, said in conversation with a reporter recently: "I was delighted with my experience, and don't know of a better way to spend an outing. Captain R. D. Lunham was the pioneer in this service. He commanded the British steamer Ceylon, and ran her with great success on various pleasure cruises to Norway, the Baltic and the Mediterranean. He then purchased the steamer Victoria. She is a beautiful vessel of over 1,800 tons and fitted up like the most luxurious of private yachts. Her saloons are paneled in different colored marbles, and she is lighted with electric lights. In fact nothing could exceed the beauty and elegance of the Victoria's fittings. I was so much pleased with her when I went on board to inspect her that I engaged passage at once.

"There were sixty-eight passengers on board when we left the Tilbury docks, below London, for our twenty-five days' cruise to Norwegian fiords and the Cape of the Midnight Sun. Nearly all of the passengers were English, but we had three or four from Brooklyn and New York. We left the Thames on June 27, and at 6 o'clock that night had cleared the Nore and stood out into the North sea. The wind and sea increased and shook us up somewhat, and the next day it blew almost a gale. Most of the passengers put in an appearance at the breakfast table, however. As the day wore on the sea and wind continued to increase, and many of the passengers sought the seclusion which their staterooms granted. By noon of June 29 we ran into smooth water again and were able to make an acquaintance with each other. A pleasant party it proved to be.

"We reached the Norwegian coast that day at the little village of Scudesnaes, a quaint old Norwegian place, where a government officer came on board and remained with us for the rest of the cruise, which was through sheltered passages up the coast. After leaving Scudesnaes we entered the Fiord Hardanger, and by 6 o'clock the next morning anchored in the charming bay of Odde, surrounded with snow capped hills. We remained here thirty-six hours, our steam launch making frequent trips to the shore, so we had a chance thoroughly to inspect the town.

"From Odde we ran up through a long line of fiords, seeing on every hand the grand Norwegian scenery, until we finally arrived at the North cape, and from its stern heights beheld the midnight sun. It was a trip I never can forget, and one of the most satisfactory in every respect which I ever made. It was not an expensive trip either. In fact, I regard such a trip as the perfection of economical enjoyment.

"The expense of such a trip as I have described is about ten dollars a day, which cannot be considered large considering the accommodations offered and the luxury in which one travels."—New York Tribune.

She Found Him Out.

A couple of Erin's sons were taking their noonday rest on Court street Friday, and I heard one of them ask his companion:

"How is it, Mike, that yez don't spend the money that yez used t'?"

Mike ejected about a quart of tobacco juice from between his lips and replied:

"Well, Denny, I'll tell yez. Ya sees, I get me sixteen dollars ivery week, an I used to tell the old lady that I was only gettin tin dollars. I usty put tin dollars in wan pocket for the old lady an the other six in me other pocket for meself, d'y' see? Well, about three weeks ago, sure, I forgot to separate the money, an when I got home I handed the old lady the whole sixteen dollars. A little whoile after she sez t' me:

"'How much did yez make this week, Moike?'

"'Tin dollars,' sez Oi.

"'Th' six dollars,' sez she.

"An thin it kem t' me all in a minute, an I sez: 'Oh, he must ha' med a mistake an given me some wan else's money. Give it here 't me an 'll tek it back t' him agin.' But the divil a penny would she gimme, an the very next day she kim down t' see th' boss. Of course she found out that I was makin me sixteen dollars a week, an now I have to give her ivery cent."

And then the boss came along and ordered them to go to work before Denny had a chance to convey his sympathy.—Brooklyn Citizen.

Abbreviations in Letters.

Emerson said that "in a letter any expressions may be abbreviated rather than those of respect and kindness; never write 'Yours aff'ly.'" But, be it said with all respect, this smacks of pedantry. The close of a letter is mere formula, and is precisely that part which, in writing to a friend, may without risk of misunderstanding be cut short or dispensed with. But no haste or degree of familiarity excuses careless expressions in the letter itself. Written words stand by themselves: the tone of the voice and the glance of the eye, which often convey more than half the meaning, are not there as footnotes; many and many an unintentional sting has been planted by a clumsy phrase or halting expression. The same principle holds good in conversation.—Blackwood's Magazine.

He Wanted to Keep Sunday.
